This invention relates to a method of making a semiconductor integrated circuit device which has a pass transistor having a thin channel and is small in size and high in operation speed and a method of fabricating a thin film type integrated circuit device and, more particularly, to a method of making a semiconductor integrated circuit device which is semiconductor integrated and is fabricated with a low heat-resistant MOS transistor or thin film type MOS transistor formed on a high heat-resistant substrate, a thin film type integrated circuit device and, more particularly, to a semiconductor integrated circuit device having high electrical properties and high reliability, which is semiconductor integrated and has a thin channel. Accordingly, the object of the invention is to provide a method of making a semiconductor integrated circuit device which can be fabricated at a low cost and is high in reliability and electrical properties. In order to solve the above problems, the method of making a semiconductor integrated circuit device according to the invention which comprises the steps of: forming a high heat-resistant substrate with a first field insulation film on the main surface thereof; forming a laminate comprising a relatively low heat-resistant conductive film formed on the first field insulation film and an insulation film; and selectively removing the insulation film to form a thin channel in the conductive film, while controlling the substrate temperature during the ion implantation of the ions into the surface of the conductive film. Further, the method of making a semiconductor integrated circuit device according to 821383394e
