SendGrid emails to work in PHP

I'm working on a PHP application and I want to integrate SendGrid ( in it. I am using the PHP library ( and I'm following this post: If I do a `var_dump($from);` and I get:

`string(27) "alex@example.com"`

and a `var_dump($to);` and I get:

array(3) { [0]=> string(6)
"alex@example.com" [1]=>
string(7) "alex@example.com"
[2]=> string(6)
"alex@example.com" } I'm sure the SPF record is correct. Does anyone have a clue what is going on here? I'm using the free plan.
A: Sendgrid Free is completely different to Sendgrid Pro.
Sendgrid Pro is based on API's.
Sendgrid Free is based on email addresses. Note that the email addresses are for example@example.com, that are free, and not for example@example.org which have more limitations. Free plan has always been free for sending emails but still allowed you to manually register recipients for free. Your email looks like an example@example.com for which you can use it to register recipients through Sendgrid Pro API but you would need to pay for it. Email addresses can be quite easy to get. Here's a list of steps how I did it: Step 1: Get your free email address: Go to the

Sendgrid website Choose Free
Pick your email address Step
